

Mrs. Barrington Elected President of Woman's Club Here Yesterday

Luncheon Session Marks 16th Birthday of Organization

Mrs. H. C. Barrington was elected president of the Torrance Woman's Club yesterday. Her election comes as a reward for exceptional service rendered. For the past two years as ways and means chairman of the club, Mrs. Barrington made an enviable record. Among outstanding affairs which she supervised were the amateur show and sale of Hospital Bed tickets. Both netted tidy sums to the club treasury.

Other officers elected Wednesday were Mrs. M. J. Beale, second vice-president; Mrs. Emily Locke, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Juliette Johnson, treasurer; Mrs. Dorothy Jamieson, auditor, and Mmes. May Scott and Julia Neelands directors.

Mrs. James H. Crumrine and Mrs. Carrie Parks were elected to serve as delegates to the state convention to be held at Coronado, May 13 and 14. Alda Hudson will serve as alternate for Mrs. Parks.

The Wednesday luncheon, at which covers were placed for 60, marked the club's 16th anniversary. Long tables were graced with low bowls of varicolored sweet peas and the club birthday cake, placed on the head table, was cut by the president, Mrs. M. J. Beale. Special honor was accorded the oldest member present, Mrs. Zada Hastie, who will shortly celebrate her 88th birthday, and the youngest member, Mrs. Naomi Riley, who this year as art chairman did outstanding work.

Mrs. Ralph Henderson, art and craft chairman of the Los Angeles District Federation of Woman's Clubs, was the speaker and exhibited wood carving work, rugs, baskets and vases made at art classes at very little cost. Club members may attend these classes held the third Monday of each month at federation headquarters on Hobart street, Los Angeles, at no cost to the individual. Mrs. Henderson extended a special invitation to members to attend the bridge luncheon, May 17, at the federation headquarters at 11 a. m. Prizes will all be made by the art craft division. Of special interest to local members were the two pictures done by Naomi Riley and exhibited at the District convention recently held in Santa Monica.

Walter Hansen, tenor soloist, was enthusiastically received when he sang three numbers. Mrs. Juliette Johnson played the accompaniment. Adding to the day's festivities was an old-fashioned ceremony at the wishing well conducted by the president-elect, Mrs. Barrington.

Hazel Is Seven Years Old

One of the jolliest May day parties was that at which Hazel Davis entertained her little friends and celebrated her seventh birthday at the Davis home, 103 Madia avenue, Saturday. Games of all kinds furnished entertainment with prizes won by Juanita Richie and Ann Gallimore.

Refreshments of the usual birthday cake and ice cream were served at a prettily decorated table with May day favors marking places for the following: Ann Gallimore, Juanita Richie, Georgette Shore, Nancy Ann Whyte, Dolores Day, Juanita Andrews, Mary Louise McCrory, Patty McCrory, Marilyn Leggett, Julius Viellenave, Diana Lavana, Ervina Garland, Beverly Jeanne Crook, Shirley Mae Decker, Jeanne Smart, Coral Ann and Sally Venable and Hazel.

ART CLUB VISITS PALESTINE MUSEUM, HAS NATIVE DINNER
The Torrance Art Club held its monthly excursion for May last Saturday. Twenty-six members and friends visited the Palestine museum located in the Silver Lake district of Los Angeles and afterwards enjoyed a dinner of Bedouin foodstuffs.

Guides led the party thru the extensive museum where the members of the party examined the brass work, exquisite inlaid-wood pieces and beautiful costumes on display. A lecture on modern conditions of life in the Holy Land, illustrated with maps and motion pictures, completed the evening.

The next meeting of the art club will be held at Torrance high school, Wednesday evening, May 12. Members are urged to be present to plan for the final excursion of the year. Friends are welcome.

Margaret Ann Vonderahe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vonderahe was a blue ribbon winner at the annual baby day celebration sponsored by the Mother's Educational Centers and held each year in the Los Angeles Exposition grounds May 1. Her rating was almost 99% and this is the second year she has captured a blue ribbon.

Stephen Cook, aged 3, was the second Torrance entry to receive a blue ribbon.

Torrance children appearing in the parade Saturday were cared for by Mrs. Raymond Rogers, chairman of the Torrance Educational Center, Mmes. Violet Locke, Sam Neely, J. W. Quigley and Calvie Wilburn.

THE STREET OF THE FISHING CAT

By Jolan Foides: This is the novel which was the happy choice for the prize in the All-Nations prize novel contest. This delightful tale has a fresh flavor with its faintly old-fashioned story set against a strange, new and magnificent background. In Paris, that fascinating no man's land of modern exiles and refugees, is the Street of the Fishing Cat, where White Russians, Finnish Communists, Spanish Socialists and Royalists meet, clash, form new combinations and from one day to the next vanish at a new turn of the political wheel in their home countries. Set against this kaleidoscope background is the unforgettable story of the Hungarian family, the Barabas, their touching efforts to send forth new roots in France in a society uprooted and insecure with only a fading dream-picture of their past. One cannot soon forget their struggles or the portraits drawn of Gyula, Anna or Klari.

SOUND OF RUNNING FEET

By Josephine Lawrence: This young author's two previous successes, "Years Are So Long" and "If I Have Four Apples" have given evidence of her amazing talent. In this new story she pictures our interlocking private and business lives. From the corporation president's office, stenographer's desk, and janitor's box we follow to their homes, men, women, husbands, wives, parents, whose hopes and fears are yours and mine.

DRUMS IN THE BALKAN NIGHT

By John B. McCulloch: Written with much humor and common sense is this lively account of a year spent in the Balkans by the author and his wife. The McCullochs were on their honeymoon and decided that Greece, Albania, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Romania and Turkey were the places to see to they wandered for a year and in admirable style reported their impressions of government offices, coffee houses, peasant homes, palaces, roadside and railway stations of the Balkan countries. They saw and interviewed most of the public personages of the region including Venizelos, Queen Marie of Roumania and King Boris of Bulgaria. To quote from the preface: "The book does not pretend to be complete description of the Balkans. If he has managed to communicate one fraction of his own enthusiasm for fascinating and little known corners of Europe, the author will be more than satisfied."

THE RETURN TO MALAYA

By Bruce Lockhart: This book offers good reading for the whole family and will please a wide variety of readers. The author of "British Agent," so widely read, returns to the scene of his earliest escapades and writes an adventure story, personal history, and foreign affairs notebook all in one.

Paris Styles by... MARY FENTRESS

PARIS. (U.P.)—Vera Borea's summer collection shows higher waists for day and evening wear with short bodices that usually are draped. Shoulder width is maintained throughout but the sleeves are plain and straight in line.

There are many cotton prints and lincens shown for wear at all times of the day with bright yellow as the outstanding color. Bright colors are used for short little jackets over dark skirts—for example, pastel blue is now shown with dark red, and rose is shown with dark gray. Cut-out applied designs are used for trimming for daytime and evening clothes.

Blue and white linen is used for an attractive summer dress with a matching jacket. The dress is sleeveless and backless, with the neck outlined by an inch-wide band of white linen. The belt is of white linen also. The fitted, tailored jacket has the same inch-wide banding of white linen which outlines the neck, front opening and hem.

A similar costume is made in white linen trimmed at the bodice of the dress with applied oak leaves of green linen. This backless dress has the same type tailored fitted jacket which opens wide in front to reveal the green trimming on the dress.

Yellow is used over and over in the collection. One dress has short, straight sleeves a rounded neckline and is trimmed with an applied sunburst design on the front bodice. The belt is bright green in contrast. Pale yellow waffle line is used for another costume with a divided skirt. The square neck yoke of the dress is in lightweight navy jersey and the same material is used for cuffs and belt.

TODAY'S FASHION TIP
Yellow linen is popular for summer wear.

Mrs. D. A. Barnard Fetes Hospital Group At Unique Party

A rather unique affair of Friday was the one at which Mrs. D. A. Barnard, 2553 Sonoma avenue, president of the Los Angeles Pacific Electric Woman's club entertained members of her hospital committee in the clubhouse at Los Angeles.

Everyone attending the party were treated as patients in a clinic. Their cases were diagnosed by Mrs. Barnard in the role of Dr. Quack and her assistant, Dr. Hurtem. Capsules were given each patient and in the capsule was a note telling the patient a stunt he must perform. Favors were tiny hospital beds.

Those attending were Mrs. Lon Bishop of Glendale, Mrs. A. H. Johnson of Monterey Park, Mmes. Frank Miller, A. C. Smith, J. S. King, T. S. Womer, R. B. Crunk, Maude Wittermyer of Los Angeles, Mmes. Wm. Ruple, Roy Confer and D. A. Barnard of Torrance.

N.B.P.W. Club Elects Officers and Honors Member

The new home of Mrs. Bettina Miller, 1217 Cota avenue, furnished the setting for a jolly party Tuesday evening, when members of the National Business and Professional Women's club feted her at a house warming and presented her with a lovely gift.

The party followed the club's regular business session at which Addie Parks was elected club president for the ensuing year. Bettina Miller was elected vice president; Ada Chase, recording secretary; Florence Welch, corresponding secretary; Marie Chino, treasurer and Marjorie Huber, auditor. All officers were unopposed for election.

Officers will be installed at the regular dinner meeting which will be held the week of May 17. Florence Welch, Lola Hoover, Ada Chase and Bettina

Miller will select the place of the meeting, time and notify the evening to attend the state installing officer. convention at Del Monte, May Addie Parks and Bettina Miller 8 and 9.

WHAT REFRIGERATOR HAS THE LOWEST 10-YEAR COST?

THE U. S. PUBLIC WORKS ADMINISTRATION WANTED TO KNOW and here's what they did about it

● When PWA's Housing Division studied food-keeping economy for the future residents of their low-rent housing projects, they made a discovery. They found that electric refrigeration—far from being a luxury—was the lowest cost food-keeping they could buy in a majority of their projects.

To pick the most economical electric refrigerator, for 16,697 dwellings in 34 of these projects, they asked for bids from leading manufacturers—not on price alone, but initial price PLUS ten-year cost of electricity. Westinghouse won this contract, showed the lowest 10-year cost of them all. And... it's 10-Year Economy that counts!
